- Policy of Komercijalna Banka AD Skopje for capital adequacy management

Experiences from the global financial crisis have confirmed the need to maintain adequate size and quality of capital in banks, in which crisis the most affected were inadequately capitalized banks. In this regard, the Basel Committee introduced additional layers of capital protection and requirements for raising the quality level of capital instruments included in the capital, which will provide additional protection and reduce the future vulnerability of banks to unexpected shocks. In order to comply with the recommendations of the Basel Committee, in recent years the National Bank has adopted new decisions and amendments to the regulations related to banking operations in terms of meeting the capital requirements of banks, in order to strengthen the stability of the financial system. In that direction, and in order to provide prudent management of the capital adequacy of the Bank, Komercijalna Banka AD Skopje has prescribed its Policy for capital adequacy management. The subject of the Policy is the management of the capital adequacy of the Bank in order to ensure an adequate level of capital depending on the type and scope of financial activities performed by the Bank and in accordance with the size of the risks taken for the implementation of current and planned activities.

- Policy of Komercijalna Banka AD Skopje for identifying and monitoring related parties and parties related to the Bank

In the current operation in performing the basic activities and services, the Bank establishes business relations with its clients, and thus is exposed to various types of risks that may affect the profit, the Bank's own funds, etc. The exposure of the Bank to the clients and their related parties is especially significant as the only risk for the Bank. The macroeconomic conditions in which the Bank realizes its activity, as well as the high share in the lending of the companies in the total portfolio of the Bank, are the starting point for determining a strategy for dealing with and reducing non-performing loans. The strategy and measures taken by the Bank will continue to be applied in the future in order to maintain an acceptable level of non-performing loans. This is especially important not only for Komercijalna Banka AD Skopje, but also for the stability of the economy, given that it is one of the leading banks in the Republic of North Macedonia, measured by the size of assets, clients' deposits and net loans to clients. It is also of great importance that the Bank has a leading position in terms of the number of corporate clients and the amount of loans approved to the corporate sector. An additional challenge in maintaining an acceptable level of non-performing loans, especially in the current year, is expected to be the current conditions associated with the spread of the Covid-19 virus (Coronavirus), as the economic effects of the virus are still uncertain, both on global and national level and depend on the duration and intensity of that unexpected shock.

In order to provide faster, more qualitative and efficient service to the clients, the Supervisory Board, by separate decisions, defines total limits of credit exposure towards certain clients and their related parties, while the individual decisions on approving the credit exposure within the limits are made by the Risk Management Committee. The limits are defined on the basis of prior analysis made and are revised on quarterly basis.

All members of the Supervisory Board gave active and significant contribution in the functioning of the Board. The decisions of the Supervisory Board were made in a transparent and documentary procedure, based on a complete and objective assessment. According to the principles of good corporate management, the Supervisory Board realized good cooperation with the Board of Directors, Risk Management Committee, Audit Committee and the Internal Audit, without its participation in the daily management of the Bank. This manner of operation of the Supervisory Board contributed to stable, safe and efficient management and appropriate supervision over the Bank's bodies and the operation of the Bank.
